

Voters have trusted the C Club's endorsements for more than 50 years

Houston is a dynamic and growing city. We are the energy capital of the world, home to elite institutions of higher learning and a world-renowned medical center, a leader across a variety of economic sectors, and ripe with opportunity. It's no surprise then that people are flocking here in search of a better life.

While Houston's prospects remain unlimited, we also face a series of challenges that must be overcome in order for our city to fulfill that potential. High property taxes are hurting families and stifling growth. Violent criminals threaten public safety while our police are understaffed. The city's financial house is in disarray and our schools are underdelivering for too many students. For this reason, the C Club is committed to electing candidates capable of solving these problems to ensure Houston's best days are ahead and no one is left behind.
